

BAY SHORE ROAD NOW BEING BUILT

Crowds of citizens of this county and of San Francisco gathered at the south end of the new Bay Shore road, the first unit of the new Bay Shore highway, to see the first shovel of earth on the new project was turned by Mayor Ralph J. Rolph, Jr., of San Francisco and Supervisor Ralph McLean of that city. The turning of the first shovel of earth was a signal for the blowing of every whistle in the industrial area of South San Francisco and the ringing of every bell. With this every auto horn in the district, it seemed as though Redwood had been turned loose.

Following the ceremony of the ground breaking, short speeches were made by Mayor Ralph J. Rolph, Jr., of San Francisco, Chairman Harvey M. Toy of the state highway commission, Supervisor Richard J. Welch, W. J. Martin of South San Francisco, Prof. Charles D. Marx of Palo Alto, Chairman C. M. Holt of the Redwood City Chamber of Commerce, President W. F. Culherson of the Motor Dealers' Association, Chairman R. J. Brunner of the California Automobile Association, and Contractor C. D. Foley, who will construct the first unit of the Bay Shore highway.

"It is my desire to construct this highway to San Jose," said McLean. "The city of San Francisco and the county of San Mateo and the county of Santa Clara believe that the Bay Shore highway should be completed by the State of California. My fellow citizens, if we continue this enthusiasm we will not only have three highways in San Mateo county but we will have many more of highways in conformity with the growth of our community which for all intents and purposes is one and identical."

In a few well selected words, President C. M. Holt of the local chamber of commerce, outlined the aims of San Mateo county, which he stated were identical with those of San Francisco. The beginning of work on this new boulevard, he stated is only the beginning of a great era of peninsula development in the common interests of the two counties.

Music during the program was supplied by the San Francisco Municipal band, which also accompanied the auto parade from San Francisco over the present Bay Shore road. Following the work at South San Francisco the autos formed a parade and returned to San Francisco and proceeded to the St. Francis hotel where a luncheon was given by the Down Town Association. Here the chief speaker was Harvey M. Toy of the California Highway Commission. Toy said that the highway was to be taken over by the State clear through to San Jose. You must all work for this and urge it upon the next Legislature. Keep up your united effort and urge your senators and assemblymen to put it through. The splendid spirit shown today will win. For my part, I am with you 100 per cent.

"There was but one road 24 feet wide, which might be termed 'half a road,' into and out of San Francisco," said Toy. "The road was built by the State Building Governor, Friend W. Richardson, took office in 1923. We now have the Peninsula highway widened to 40 feet and one of the finest roads in the world (we yet have the road to the cemeteries to widen to make this Peninsula highway fully efficient). We also have the Sky-line boulevard, which relieves the congestion considerably, and today we start the Bay Shore highway with a right-of-way 125 feet wide. It will be a fast road—a heavy dirt road."

At the same time that this ceremony was in progress at South San Francisco, two dredgers began actual construction work on this unit of the road by starting the work of filling in the marsh land for the roadbed. When completed this new road will be a second highway paralleling our present highway, the length of the peninsula. It will be 100 feet wide and will eventually connect San Francisco and San Jose.

Development of Telephone Shown in Redwood City

In comparison with the present day practice wherein telephone cables are, where population warrants, run under the ground, are the early days of the telephone, when all circuits entered the buildings which served as exchanges by way of the roof. A frame structure which was subject to damage from weather conditions was erected on the roof to support the wires. During the first two years few poles were erected and wires were strung on house-tops and walls.

There are now more than 116,160 feet of cable, containing, on the average 150 pairs of wires in service in Redwood City, and the adjacent territory served by Redwood City exchange, according to Manager J. D. Worthington of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company. Nowadays the telephone wires center central offices by means of underground cable and, instead of running through the roof, pass into cable vaults without being exposed to the vagaries of the weather, emerging, finally, into what is known as the terminal room, where they are connected to the switchboard.

The first telephone exchange in San Francisco was located at 222 Sansome street and was operated under the auspices of the American Speaking Telephone Company. The telephone was introduced by progressive Californians to this state in 1876, the same year in which the telephone was invented. In the beginning several of the eastern exchanges were used in connection with telephone systems by day and with burglar alarms at night.

According to announcement made this week by J. D. Worthington, district manager of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company, the company is planning to augment its equipment immediately by the addition of a number of new lines of cable to serve new customers. This increase of equipment was made necessary by the continued growth of the town, Worthington explained, and will be made comprehensive enough to take care of the needs of the future.

"There is an ungrounded rumor," Worthington stated, "that the telephone company is short of material, and will not be able to secure the necessary material for additional service here for some time. This is not so. Material is already arriving and on hand to continue the needed increase to our exchange here."

The work of increasing the local equipment will be started on October 1st and will be finished about October 30th.

This road will pass through Redwood City just back of the buildings which now form the end of Broadway. The proposed route crosses the creek, near the Frank Tannery and joins the Middlefield road which will be incorporated into the new road.

COUNTY EXHIBITS AT THE STATE FAIR WIN

One gold medal, fifteen first prizes, four second prizes and one special prize were carried off by exhibits from this county at the State fair at Sacramento this week. Several of the first prizes and one of the second prizes were secured by exhibits prepared by the Peninsula Farms Company of Pescadero. An even better display could have been made by this company, according to A. W. Tate, Jr., county horticultural commissioner, if they had been given sufficient notice that the county was going to exhibit. As it was, many products raised by them that would in all probability, have taken prizes were not saved for the exhibit, and those which were sent to Sacramento were just taken from the average crop off the products raised, without special care being taken in their raising. It is safe to say that the wonderful showing made by the Peninsula Farms Company will be more than duplicated next year.

Next to the Peninsula Farms Company, the most successful exhibitor of this county was J. Garibaldi, a vegetable grower of Colma, who took first prizes on table beets and two on carrots.

The list of exhibitors taking prizes and their products follows:

First Prizes
Pink beans, small white beans, red kidney beans, cranberry beans, horse (Fava) beans, green peas, grown by Peninsula Farms Company, Pescadero.
Lettuce grown by Colma Vegetable Growers Assn., Colma.
Table beets, half long carrots, short carrots, grown by J. Garibaldi.
Rhubarb grown by D. J. Bassett.
L. Stern Estate, Atherton.
Salsify grown by E. Mathews on M. A. Harris Estate, Atherton.
Swiss chard, grown by W. Bassett on Chas. Haas Estate, Atherton.

Second Prizes
Pears, plate exhibit, 22 varieties, various estates, Atherton.
Pumpkins grown by J. W. Taylor, Rummel.
Dried peas, grown by Peninsula Farms Company, Pescadero.
Potted Ferns, various nurseries.
Raspberries exhibited by Ravenswood Chamber of Commerce.

Special Prize
Artichokes, grown by Peninsula Farms Co., Pescadero.

Gold Medal
Fontana pastes, (macaroni, etc.) This showing is remarkably good for a county which is not in reality an agricultural county, and one of small area, when it is considered that exhibitors were competing from all parts of the state.

One thing which made the exhibition of the best products from this county difficult was the fact that the board of supervisors did not definitely decide to have a county exhibit at the fair until the short time before the fair opened, consequently the products could not be selected as carefully as they otherwise might. If the matter is taken up earlier next year, it is not at all unlikely that the showing of the county will be even better than the excellent results of this year's exhibition.

FUNERAL SERVICES HELD FOR LEONARD BLOOMQUIST
Funeral services were held last Wednesday afternoon from the parlors of the Laying and Tinney Undertaking Company, for Leonard Bloomquist, who was killed last Saturday while at work in his saw mill at Warr. Friends of the deceased attended from all parts of the county.

Interment was in Cypress Lawn cemetery. Bloomquist was killed almost instantly last Saturday when hoisting logs at the mill operated by himself and brother. In some way a heavy beam to which the cable was fastened broke loose above him and fell crushing him beneath it. Medical assistance was called as soon as Bloomquist could be removed from beneath the log, but he passed away within an hour after the accident.

The deceased was a native of this county, having been born at Harrison, near where the accident happened. He was 36 years of age and is survived by a wife and three children, Emory Leonard, Marjory, and Anna Marie Bloomquist. His mother, Mrs. Albertine Bloomquist, and four brothers, Arthur, Albert, Herman and Edward Bloomquist, and two sisters, Miss Olga Bloomquist and Mrs. Selma Shaul, of San Francisco also survive. Bloomquist was a nephew of Mrs. Frank Bloomquist of this city.

City Briefs

Miss Clara M. Shelley, assistant librarian at the public library, left yesterday for Pacific Grove, where she will spend her vacation of two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. John P. Weller and Mr. and Mrs. Roy W. Cloud drove to Pacific Grove Saturday and remained over the 9th.

Several friends of Miss Marie Rice were guests at the home of George H. Rice on Edgewood road, Wednesday evening, to help Miss Mamie celebrate her birthday.

The local Masonic Lodge observed Constitution week Thursday night at its regular stated meeting. Superintendent A. E. Monteith of the local schools, who is an accredited extension lecturer of the State University, gave a most interesting discourse on the federal constitution and described the convention that framed it. Mr. Monteith has the faculty of making his talks both understandable and interesting.

Mrs. Fred George returned to her home the latter part of last week, after a visit to her former home in Nova Scotia.

Louis Behrens, assistant cashier of the First National Bank, has been spending a week in Colma and Mendocino counties. He reports deer plentiful, although he did not specifically qualify his statement. We presume he means the "wild timid deer."

Attorney and Mrs. James T. O'Keefe visited at the State fair at Sacramento in the early part of the week. They were accompanied to Sacramento by their daughter, Miss Ethel O'Keefe, who commenced her duties this week as a teacher in the Sacramento high school.

MR. AND MRS. LEROY B. HINMAN CELEBRATE FIFTIETH WEDDED YEAR
Celebrating a half century of happy wedded life, Mr. and Mrs. Leroy B. Hinman this week observed the fiftieth anniversary of the day which made them man and wife. The occasion was quietly celebrated at the home of the local couple at 715 Hopkins avenue, where surrounded by their children, grandchildren and a few particular friends they sat down to their golden wedding feast.

The Hinmans were married in Sutter county in 1874, fifty years ago last Wednesday. The wedding ceremony was performed at that time by the father of the groom, who was a minister of the Methodist church.

An interesting feature of the celebration last Wednesday was the fact that three of the guests present at the wedding fifty years ago were present at this anniversary. These were Joseph Cox of Sacramento, Sally Clark and Miss Susie Russell of San Francisco. The following members of the family were present at the celebration Wednesday:

Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Hinman of this city, Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Hinman of Sacramento, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Musladin of San Francisco, Mr. and Mrs. James H. Howson of Berkeley and Gage J. Hinman of this city; grandchildren, Leland Tabor, Elmer Hinman, Vera Hinman, Elma Hinman, Helen Howson, Loyal Hinman, Sidney Hinman, Carol Hinman, Bertha Hinman and Franklin Hinman. Other guests included Mrs. Rita Parker of Oakville; Joseph Cox of Sacramento; the Rev. Harry Owen of this city and Mrs. Staschen of Burlingame.

LOCAL NATIVES JOIN IN BIG CELEBRATION
Members of Redwood Parlor No. 8, G. W. and Bonita Parlor No. 8, W. made a fine showing at the G. W. made a fine showing at the celebration of Admission Day at the place. The parlors of the county were all represented and 4 prepared a float representing the county.

The float represented the Spanish period of California history and was beautifully decorated with flowers and men and women in Spanish costumes. Prominence was also given to the many Spanish names of the county. In front and in the rear of the float, Native Sons held elaborate program of speeches and entertainment is underway and some prominent members of the organization are expected to be here at that time and take part in the convention. Full details of the program are not yet arranged but will be announced later.

Members of Bay View Lodge I. O. O. F. will visit the San Mateo lodge of Odd Fellows on Monday night. The committee in charge of affairs is anxious to have all those who are going to be in front of the hall here at 7:30 of that evening.

KIWANIANS PLANNING FOR CHARTER NIGHT

Plans for what promises to be one of the memorable events in Redwood City's history are now forming, and details of an occasion which will attract state wide interest are now being worked out by the members of the Redwood City Kiwanis Club. The occasion will be their charter night which is to occur on September 20, next Saturday evening.

Many of the details of the affair were discussed at the last luncheon meeting of the club which occurred last Wednesday, the regular meeting day. Tuesday, being a holiday. The meeting was called to order by Vice-President Guy Clifton in the absence of President, Elmore Hinman. Roy W. Cloud was introduced by him as the principal speaker of the day, and proceeded to entertain the members with an interesting account of his trip to the east this summer, and his visit to Washington, D. C. The club went on record as in accord with the spirit of National Defense Day which was celebrated yesterday.

The Kiwanis Club is proving more and more of a success in Redwood City, and the high ideals for which it stands are making themselves felt throughout the web of business interests here. The ideals of the Kiwanis Club are aptly stated by O. Samuel Cummings of Dallas, Texas as follows:

"Kiwanis ideals are the product of the collective idealism of those busy, practical men who are Kiwanians. Kiwanis ideals are an expression of the inner hopes, ambitions and desires of average business men. These hidden unexpressed but fundamental reactions of the human soul are the very fabric of life itself. They are 'the product of the moral and spiritual evolution of mankind. Those reactions are the hidden signs of that struggle in which every man engages, seeking to apply his philosophy of life to his duties and privileges as a member of society."

The last twenty-five years have witnessed a wonderful development of the social consciousness. The average man of today has an infinitely greater appreciation of his fellow-men, a more adequate understanding of his obligations as a citizen and a more vivid realization of his responsibility to society than had his father before him.

Kiwanis, first brought to the business man as only a luncheon club, proved the means by which he might satisfy his hunger for fellowship and invest his life in practical service. Kiwanis acquired the aspects of a movement only when Kiwanians, without any suggestion or direction whatever, unconsciously used it as a vehicle by which they could express their real selves. The unusual spirit of fellowship and the quality of manhood represented in Kiwanis rendered the organization a fitting emissary of a great idea.

Kiwanis is leading a spiritual renaissance in which the business man is finding his own soul. He finds in Kiwanis an organization in which he can make application of principles which before seemed so theoretical and impractical as to be apart from the realities of human experience.

The Kiwanis accepts a new motive for life—service to his fellow-men. The Golden Rule takes on a new significance when translated into terms of daily experience. To the true Kiwanian his business or profession provides not only a means for earning a livelihood but also a means by which he may serve society.

There is nothing new about the Kiwanis idea—it is as old as the soul of man, but Kiwanis has put the breath of life into the old ideas by translating them into terms which the average man may appreciate.

WILL OF LATE JESSE ROBB FILED BY SON
The will of the late Jesse C. Robb, prominent San Mateo pioneer who died at his home there on August 5, was filed for probate Monday afternoon in the office of County Clerk Elizabeth M. Kneese by Harry F. Robb, son of the deceased, who is named executor without bond and sole beneficiary under the will.

The estate is valued at more than $100,000 in cash, securities and real property. The will is dated Feb. 19, 1923. It expressly omits to name any beneficiaries other than Harry F. Robb.

ADDITIONAL CO-EXECUTORS TO BE LAID HERE
The Pacific Gas and Electric Company has approved orders for the running of 2038 feet of two-inch high pressure gas mains in Katherine, Nevada streets, Hillside avenue, and Inner Circle to supply twelve local homes with gas.

Those to be supplied from the new main are J. Dougherty, H. Smith, W. Gross, J. Mariani, P. Rossetto, R. Booc, G. L. Kinser, P. J. Meshaw, F. Addison, J. Watkins, R. Southward and E. B. McClaskey.

WORK BEGUN ON NEW SAN MATEO STATION
Work of removing the present Southern Pacific station at San Mateo began this week. When the present structure is removed a handsome new building will be erected in its place. The waiting room and ticket office have been lodged in temporary quarters during the interim.

Organizations in Defense Day Observance

Organizations of all kinds, and citizens of the town joined to make Defense Day an unqualified success here yesterday. The parade, which was one of the main features of the celebration began at 7 p. m., and marched along Broadway and Main streets. In the parade organizations of all kinds participated. The high school students marched as a body; the American Legion; the Spanish War Veterans, the Kiwanis Club, the Women's Relief Corps, the Native Sons and Native Daughters all took part. The parade was headed by the United States Naval Reserve Band of the First division. Father Kennedy's Boy Scout drum corps also marched and enlightened the marchers with the rhythm of their instruments.

Following the parade, a public meeting was held in front of the courthouse, and Trustee A. E. Monteith of Redwood City introduced to the assembled citizens, the speaker of the evening, County Superintendent of Schools Roy W. Cloud.

Mr. Cloud laid stress upon the duty of every citizen to be law-abiding and patriotic. He dwelt upon the history of our country and what it has meant to civilization in general and to its own citizens in particular. He dwelt upon the significance of Preparedness Day and expressed the hope that should the United States ever be called on again to go into a conflict that it would find the country prepared and ready for the fray.

Defense Day is set aside by President Coolidge for a taking of stock of the strength of the country, and for a summing up of its ability should a war occur. The day is in no sense a military one, and does not presage a war, as some of its opponents would lead the country to believe. It merely is a day on which the reserve forces of the country were mustered and the ability of the nation to withstand an unexpected attack tested.

The plans for the observance of the day here were taken care of by the local post of the American Legion, and received the hearty support of all local organizations. The day was a complete success, and great credit is due to those who took the interest in the occasion to take charge of the arrangements.

AGED RESIDENT DIES AT HOME HERE SUNDAY
Mrs. Dora Gould, who was more than half a century has made her home in this city, passed away last Sunday, at the age of 82 years. Born in Ireland, Mrs. Gould came to this county as a young girl and lived for a short time in the east. She came to California, however, and still quite young and lived at Belmont in this county. Later the family moved to Menlo Park and still later to Redwood City, where she has lived for more than 55 years.

Mrs. Gould is survived by two sons, Charles T. and Edward S. Gould of this city and one son, Emmet Gould of Burlingame. Her husband, Charles F. Gould preceded her to the grave by several years.

The funeral was held Wednesday from the chapel of Laying and Tinney, thence to Mt. Carmel Catholic church, of which the deceased was a devout member for many years. Following a requiem mass the body was conveyed to Holy Cross cemetery at Menlo Park for interment.

FRESHMAN RECEPTION
The upperclassmen of Sequoia High, united in a reception to the "Fresh" of the institution Thursday evening at the big school and the affair was a success in every respect.

A play was staged at the auditorium at 7:45 which was greatly enjoyed and at its conclusion everybody went to the gym where Red Nelson and his orchestra gave the music for the dance which lasted until twelve o'clock.

"How do you find marriage?" "During courtship I talked and she listened. After marriage she talked and I listened. Now we both talk and the neighbors listen."

FORMER REDWOOD RESIDENT PASSES

County Treasurer P. P. Chamberlain received a copy of the Monticello, Iowa, Express this week which contained a notice of the burial of John A. Doutrick. Mr. Doutrick died in Pasadena and his body was taken to his old home at Monticello for interment. The deceased was a native of Pennsylvania, aged 81 years.

John Doutrick came to Redwood City in the very early days of our community to join his brother Frank, who was a business man here in the sixties and early seventies. He associated himself at once with the Stonaker Mercantile Company and was with that firm until it was purchased by P. P. Chamberlain and Wilbur J. Wilcox in 1875. He then left for Monticello, Iowa, where he was in business until 1915 when he retired and went to Pasadena to make his home.

While in Redwood City Mr. Doutrick was interested in fraternal work and was one of the most active members of the Congregational church.

WOMAN VISITS REDWOOD AFTER LONG ABSENCE
Mrs. C. E. Puleifer of Chicago, accompanied by her son, who is editor of the Pennsylvania News, visited in Redwood City for a short time last Monday. Mrs. Puleifer is a former Redwood City resident having spent her girlhood here many years ago. She is well known to the older residents of the town as Carrie Beal.

Mrs. Puleifer was surprised at the progress that has been made by the town and was delighted with the improved appearance of the business section. Her visit was brief, as she was only able to stop off between trains and revisit the places which were familiar to her, many years ago.

Mrs. Puleifer and her son came west by way of the Canadian Rockies and are expecting to return via the southern route.

REDWOOD MAN ARRESTED AFTER SAN MATEO WRECK
Following a wreck in which his car is alleged to have run into a car driven by two boys in San Mateo Wednesday Jan. J. Davis, living at 903 Fulton street, this city was arrested after a chase which ended at Beresford.

Deputy Sheriff Tom Meeks was in his car at the time of the accident, and seeing Davis speeding away, he took up the pursuit. Davis stopped on the gas and Traffic Officer James Daziel joined in the pursuit, which ended when Davis' car struck a stone pillar at Beresford. The car was damaged too badly to proceed, and Davis was placed under arrest by Meeks. He was later released on $500 bail, and will be heard in the court of Judge Bird of San Mateo.

Davis is said to be a retired army officer with a service record in the Philippines. He is also said by police to be facing a charge of speeding in Mayfield, and is alleged to have given a fictitious name at the time of his arrest there by Police Officer Overfelt of that city.

MANY DEER SHOT BY LOCAL HUNSMEN
Many of the local hunters are having their efforts at deer hunting crowned with success this week. On Tuesday B. Arata, hunting with S. Pelz, Bob Greene and Rudy Uhl in the Bear Gulch district bagged a 3 pointer, weighing 164 pounds. A deer is now on display in a local butcher shop.

On the Monday previous, Albert Mansfield, Reub. Baer and Arnold Jess hunting with a party in the Black Mountain district were able to bring home three four pointers. The same day Owen and John McCue and Emile Casaretto killed a three prong buck in the Purissima canyon on the roadside.

AMERICAN CONSTITUTION WEEK

THE observance of Defense Day yesterday was of and talk about our Constitution all next week. It is also suggested that people in this land of the free and the home of the brave should, for at least a portion of the seven days, refrain from breaking any of its provisions, either fundamental or amendatory.

The Constitution as formally adopted was signed September 17, 1787, by George Washington, President of the Constitutional Convention and delegate from Virginia, and the delegates from the eleven other colonies represented.

To Gouverneur Morris, who was skilled in the use of English, was given the task of preparing the Constitution in its written form, and Mr. Morris certainly performed a great work in taking the mass of details and welding them into the compact form of the fundamental law of our land.

Most of the thirty-one signers of the document were men of much learning and great intelligence and the Constitution is probably one of the greatest and most comprehensive instruments ever prepared for the government of a nation.

It might be well for every citizen who wishes to think about our Constitution to read the "American Creed" next week. It is as follows:

"I believe in the United States of America as a government of the people; by the people; for the people; whose just powers are derived from the consent of the governed; a democracy within a republic; a sovereign nation of many sovereign states; a perfect union, one and inseparable; established upon those principles of freedom, equality, justice, and humanity for which American patriots sacrificed their lives and fortunes.

"I therefore believe it is my duty to my country to love it, to support the Constitution; to obey its laws; to respect its flag; and to defend it against all enemies."

DEFENSE DAY

THE people of the United States are asked to think nation-wide importance. In every hamlet, village and city of the United States of America, the president's request that exercises should be held, was carried out.

To many the observance of the occasion presaged a preparedness for war. That was not the intent of the affair. It was simply to keep fresh in the minds of the people that we must be prepared should another great conflict ever take place.

During the late great war our forces went into the fray totally unprepared. Thousands of lives were sacrificed by the contestants because they did not know what they should do.

We trust there will never be another war. We hope that the ideas of the great teacher of Gallilea may come to pass and that the sword may be beaten into a plowshare. But if war must come, we should take an interest in our resources and keep our youth in such a patriotic spirit that he will want to go out and do his duty. We want every safeguard, possible, thrown around him that he may come back to his country a good man, physically, morally and mentally.

Defense Day should prepare for such a condition in the United States.

LEST WE FORGET

IT is remarkable how quickly people forget things. The other day a man in our hearing said that only the capitalists would vote for Coolidge. We do not class ourselves as capitalists, but we certainly will cast our ballots for republican candidates, if the will of providence lets us stay here until next November.

Our laboring friend who talked of the capitalist class with such a fluency of speech and condemned the republicans as a bunch of oil grafting politicians, has forgotten the day when he and a good many of his kind stayed at home and worked for sixteen dollars a day under a democratic administration, while the best boys in the country were doing time with Uncle Sam at $30 a month in a foreign country.

There never was a time in our history when there was such an absolute disregard for other people's money as there was during the last democratic administration. Government work was done on a percentage basis and the contractors made every possible charge, and paid unheard of wages, so that the percentage would be great. We personally believe that the men at the head of the administration were honest, high minded gentlemen, but they treated their fellows to such an extent that they lost sight of good business.

The present chief magistrate came into power at a time when conditions were at a very low ebb. The confidence of the people had been shattered. In just a few months, however, Mr. Coolidge demonstrated that he was the man of the hour. Business was revived. Those who were not faithful to their trust were ousted and we are now enjoying a period of peace and prosperity that auger well for our country.

There must be a capitalist class in our country if the workman is to be employed and paid for his labor. The savings bank deposits at the present time are greater than they ever before were. This shows that the laboring man is prosperous, for the savings bank deposits is the evidence of the laborers' prosperity.

We believe that the people as a whole will remember when they go to vote in November some of the happenings of history. We believe that Coolidge and Dawes will be elected to serve their country and that a continued era of prosperity will result.

LIGHTS AHEAD

By DOUGLAS MALLOCH

I SAT alone in all my gloom.

Yet moonlight came and filled the room.

The course of life seemed dark, uncertain.

And yet a star peeked through the curtain.

Though night shut down about me, I found moonlit world and starlit sky.

A thousand things to journey by.

I needed but to lift my head

To find God's constellations spread

Across His azure acres, burning

A changeless lamp at every turning.

I needed but to look around

And silver was the world I found

Where moonlight magic touched the ground.

So often do we choose to dwell

Within our souls as in a cell.

When right around us moon is gleaming.

When right above us stars are beaming.

Whatever path we have to tread,

If we will look, as I have said,

I'm sure that there are lights ahead.

What it costs to heat a house with gas fuel

THE cost of heating your home with gas fuel should be judged by the cost for the entire heating season and not by the highest monthly bill.

To illustrate: Take a five room home in the Bay District with four people in the family and using gas for cooking, water-heating, and house-heating.

The actual bills are:

Jan.	Feb.	March	April	May	June	July	Aug.	Sept.	Oct.	Nov.	Dec.
$24.51	19.08	14.87	14.70	$4.78	7.90	7.00	7.00	$ 7.82	8.74	11.30	16.81

Subtracting from the total of these bills an average of $6.50 a month, which is a reasonable amount for cooking and water-heating, we have $67.33 total heating bill. This is an average cost for fuel of only $5.60 per month for the entire year, and as a part of the gas bill, was not paid for until after it was used.

There are gas radiators, radiant heaters, warm air furnaces, steam, and hot water boilers which you may install to economically heat your home.

FORD CONVENTION SPIRIT BROUGHT TO THE COAST

W. H. Goodwin, manager of the San Francisco Ford Motor Company branch, opened August 26th the greatest two-day Ford Dealer Convention ever held in this territory. An attendance figure of over two hundred Ford men who came here, made it possible to transmit to the dealer organization in Northern California and Nevada, the policy change and the promotion of the company ideas as brought out at the recent Branch Managers' Convention held in Detroit last month from which Goodwin had just recently returned.

"Our expansion program is still underway, millions of dollars being expended for the construction of new buildings, assembly plants, installation of new and better equipment, the enlargement and betterment of our present establishments, etc., all with the thought in mind of increasing the quality of the car; maintaining the lowest possible price for Ford products and at the same time to provide adequate facilities for insuring sufficient output every month of the year to take care of the year in addressing dealers last Friday.

The Friday session of the convention held at the new factory branch, Lincoln display building on Van Ness continued throughout the day until 5:30 p. m., when the dealers were guests of the Ford Motor Company at a banquet on the roof garden of the Whitcomb Hotel. Music and entertainment was sponsored by the Ruckstell Axle Company and the O. R. Peterson Company, implement distributors here.

The next morning a corps of guides led all visiting dealers through the San Francisco Ford branch in groups. Dealers were surprised to visualize the accomplishments in the building and reconditioning of this plant possible by the expenditure of $450,000 since the first of this year. It is estimated that $250,000 will be expended before the improvements planned have been completed.

Dealers who came to San Francisco for the convention took an active part in the meeting, and all went back to their respective places of business with a determination to carry to their employees the original "spirit of service" which Mr. Henry Ford brought to the Branch Managers' Convention and which Goodwin, in turn, relayed to the dealers.

Plant Parasites Strip Leaves From Sycamores

Washington.—Sycamores in Illinois, Ohio, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, West Virginia and Arkansas are being completely stripped of leaves by a heavy infection of sycamore blight, a fungus disease known as gnomonia veneta, according to reports received by the U. S. Department of Agriculture here. In Ohio the same plant parasite which is damaging the sycamores has also attacked the white oaks. Many valuable trees will be severely damaged if not completely killed by the epidemic. The cool, wet spring is thought to have favored the growth and spread of this sycamore blight.

Snaps a Safety Pin in Baby's Throat

Minneapolis.—An opened safety-pin which had been lodged in the throat of a nine-month-old boy for thirty-six hours, was removed by physicians at General Hospital. The child probably will recover.

When the babe was taken to the hospital an X-ray photograph showed that the point of the pin was sticking upward, which made removal more than ordinarily difficult. The extraction was accomplished by reaching into the throat with delicate instruments and closing the pin so the point was shielded by the safety catch.

Clothes for Men Will Be Plainer Next Year

Cedar Point, Ohio.—Men's apparel, plain this year, is going to be more so next year, according to delegates attending the annual sessions of the Merchant Tailors' Designers' association.

The designers, who are applying their ingenuity to styles for the spring and summer of 1925, say that the average man has never looked with favor on the "flashy" make-up.

They declare the thing that is causing them the most worry at the present time is the outing and particularly the golfing costume.

"We have gone the limit in the matter of the golfing outfit," said John R. Atkins of Detroit. "A new idea in the golf suit line excites much interest among the designers who have about worn themselves out thinking up this, that and the other thing."

Women's Kisses Fret Epinard at Saratoga

Saratoga Springs, N. Y.—The admiration of several hundred persons, including many women, who insisted on kissing the French race horse, has caused Trainer Leigh to bar visitors from the stable of Epinard. The restriction was placed upon visitors, but Leigh said that the clicking of cameras and the kissing of women got on the nerves of the great four-year-old.

Through the Glad Eyes of a Woman

By JANE DOE

WHY SHE HAS NICE HAIR
SHE always says—a hair in the head
is worth two in the brush.

She dries with towels always. Hot ones. Gas heaters and electric dryers are the worst enemies of well-kept hair. They cause dandruff, split ends and innumerable headaches. To her they represent an excuse for laziness.

She wears her hair loose, hanging down her back whenever she gets the opportunity. She gives her tresses an airing at the open window every day
and in the warmer weather always drys them in the sun.

Also, she goes without a hat whenever she can. There is no surer tonic
for falling hair.

She supposes you want her to recommend you a tonic. Well, hers is a hairbrush and plenty of patience and elbow-grease.

She has a nice, fairly firm, real
bristle brush. She brushes her hair
in long, even strokes night and morning without fail. She finds that a course of systematic brushing will restore any deranged locks to their normal condition in a surprisingly short time. It will also remove dandruff
and tone up the scalp more effectively
than any electrical appliances for sale
can do.

She washes her brushes and comb
every day.

She cultivates a simple, easy col-
fure.

She finds a safe rule is to shampoo when really dirty as often as necessary. Certainly once a week for very fair hair.

She finds that while constant brush-ing keeps her hair in good order, if
at any time she wants an extra polish
without the aid of brilliantine (which she never uses) she rubs strands of
her hair with her hand tied in a silk handkerchief. This gives a really beautiful gloss.

Through the Glad Eyes of a Woman

By JANE DOE

WHY SHE HAS NICE HAIR
SHE always says—a hair in the head
is worth two in the brush.

She dries with towels always. Hot
ones. Gas heaters and electric dryers are the worst enemies of well-
kept hair. They cause dandruff, split ends and innumerable headaches. To
her they represent an excuse for laziness.

She wears her hair loose, hanging
down her back whenever she gets the opportunity. She gives her tresses an
airing at the open window every day
and in the warmer weather always
drys them in the sun.

Also, she goes without a hat whenever she can. There is no surer tonic
for falling hair.

She supposes you want her to recommend you a tonic. Well, hers is a hairbrush and plenty of patience and
elbow-grease.

She has a nice, fairly firm, real
bristle brush. She brushes her hair
in long, even strokes night and morning without fail. She finds that a
course of systematic brushing will restore any deranged locks to their normal condition in a surprisingly short
time. It will also remove dandruff
and tone up the scalp more effectively
than any electrical appliances for sale
can do.

She washes her brushes and comb
every day.

She cultivates a simple, easy col-
fure.

She finds a safe rule is to shampoo when really dirty as often as necessary. Certainly once a week for
very fair hair.

She finds that while constant brush-ing keeps her hair in good order, if
at any time she wants an extra polish
without the aid of brilliantine (which
she never uses) she rubs strands of
her hair with her hand tied in a silk
handkerchief. This gives a really
beautiful gloss.

SIX "FOLLIES" BEAUTIES IN LATEST SWANSON PRODUCTION

When Allan Dwan, who was making "Her Love Story" at Para-mount's Long Island studio, with Gloria Swanson in the starring role, came to that part of his script on the picture which called for six beautiful young girls to act as women of the court of the king of a mythical Balkan country, he was plainly stumped. Getting the pretty girls was easy enough, but pretty girls who can carry themselves with extreme grace are rare.

Mr. Dwan was about to give up the chase when he suddenly thought of the famous Broadway show which "glorifies the American Girl."
Getting in touch with the casting director Mr. Dwan told him to get six girls who had experience in Ziegfeld's Follies. The girls, May Yvonne Hughes, Vivian Vernon,
Betty Williams, Vera, Sisson, May Beck and Marie Shelton, were passed before the critical eyes of the director and immediately engaged with the remark that if there was any place in New York where a girl had to acquire grace or lose her job it was with the Ziegfeld show. Even the Baroness de Hedemann, who plays in the picture and also assisted Mr. Dwan with advice on the customs of "European royalty," had to admit that the girls would pass muster at any court reception.

Jan Keith is Miss Swanson's leading-man in "Her Love Story," which will feature at the Sequoia Theatre next Monday and Tuesday, Sept. 15 and 16. There's a big all-star supporting cast playing in the picture.

NEWS OF MENLO PARK

The dance under the auspices of the Menlo Park Improvement Club in Duff and Doyle hall last Saturday evening was a success beyond the dreams of the committee of arrangements. It was attended by a large number of young people from neighboring towns. The club netted a neat sum.

Mr. Joseph VeVera, the local station agent, is enjoying a well-earned vacation of two weeks. His place as agent is being filled by C. F. Quinn, a handsome youth of Palo Alto, who is serving as a relief man for the Southern Pacific Company.

Yesterday afternoon the Menlo Park Parent-Teacher Association held its first meeting of the new school year at the grammar school house. A report was made by the committee appointed to secure a moving picture machine for the school. Prices and makes have been under consideration this summer and a definite decision as to the machine was made at the meeting as the money is already in hand for the purchase.

Mrs. Charles H. Merrill and daughter, Nancy, attended the state fair at Sacramento this week.

Young friends of James Flood, Jr., will be entertained at a dinner dance at the Flood home, "Linden Towers," this week end. The group of Menlo Park boys who will return to school at Santa Barbara next week includes James Flood, Jr., Frederick McCormick, Jr., Frederick McNear, Jr., and Ernest Stent, Jr.

Willis Polk, the nationally known architect who died on Wednesday night at Adler's sanitarium in San Francisco, some years ago resided in the Selby cottage at Atherton and was well known in local society. Of late he maintained a home at Burlingame.

Thomas Cardozo, the well-known farmer, passed away at his Palo Alto home last Sunday. The funeral took place on Tuesday, seven-five automobiles following the remains to their last resting place in Holy Cross cemetery. Traffic Officer Logan and his assistants took charge of the traffic on the highway, while the cortege passed up Santa Cruz avenue to the burial ground. The deceased many years ago secured large holdings back of Palo Alto that in recent years came into great value. Mr. Cardozo at one time farmed the "Hop Ranch," now the City of Ravenswood.

Following an illness of two months Mrs. Bessie Ellis passed to the Great Beyond last Saturday at her home on Oak Grove avenue surrounded by the members of her family. Mrs. Ellis and her husband, two children and her father came here from San Francisco three years ago, buying a home here. Mr. Ellis was employed by the Ford Motor Company.

of San Francisco and was a commuter, but planned to resign his position to find employment here. Mrs. Ellis was a native of Santa Rosa, aged 35 years. She was a devoted mother and a good Christian woman, and during her residence here took an intense interest in the local Presbyterian church, leading in all its activities and services. This death was the first break in the congregation during the six years pastorate of Rev. Harbough. Besides her husband the deceased is survived by two lovely daughters, Miss Beatrice Ellis, aged 16, and Miss Florence Ellis, aged 8, and her aged father. Many sorrowing friends and relatives followed the remains to Cypress Lawn cemetery, where interment took place. Several old acquaintances from Los Angeles attended the funeral.

The men of the Church of the Nativity are planning to take part in the Holy Name Society parade in San Francisco on Sunday, October 5. The Catholics of the diocese hope to have 50,000 in line on that day. It will be the occasion of the arrival of Archbishop E. J. Hanna home from Rome. The Catholics of the county are to participate in the big demonstration.

Many of the members of Menlo Park N. S. G. W. went to Santa Cruz on Tuesday to take part in the parade and festivities. All report having a good time and speak glowingly of the hospitality of the people of Santa Cruz who know how to entertain large crowds.

Japanese of the colony around Menlo Park gathered at the Menlo theater Monday night to see pictures of last year's disaster in their home country and to raise further contributions for relief of those still suffering as a result of the tragedy.

Miss Edna Taylor and her fiancé, Bliss Rucker, were entertained at dinner Saturday evening at the Charles McCormick home in Menlo Park.

Miss Loretta Harrington of Menlo Park and Miss Marian Johnson of San Carlos left Saturday for a trip to the Yellowstone Park.

W. J. Murray, the local realty broker, is spending his vacation at Gilroy Hot Springs. He will devote some time while there deer hunting.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Crane of Los Angeles and their little daughter, Helen, are here on a visit to the grandparents of Mr. Crane, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Crane.

Fred Nessler, proprietor of the Little Green Door, is one of Menlo Park's most enterprising business men. He has just installed an iceless icecream cabinet that is run by an electric operator, doing away with ice packing annoyances as used in the old refrigerator. The big cabinet was patented in the east and is the first of its kind to be used on the peninsula. The icecream is always kept at an even temperature and is therefore better and retains its solidity longer.

Our worries always come from our weaknesses.—Joubert.

WOODSIDE NOTES

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Audiffred have just returned from a vacation trip into Lake country.

Mr. and Mrs. James Eva of San Francisco spent Thursday of this week with Mr. and Mrs. Fred McNeill.

His many Woodside friends were shocked to hear of the sudden death in San Francisco of Dr. James Craig Neel. While not permanent residents, Dr. Neel had been in the city for several months and had won the regard and affection of all who came in contact with him.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Todd of San Francisco were guests of Dr. Bradford Leavitt over the week end. James O'Donnell entertained a hundred members of his Sodality at a picnic held at his Woodside place on Sunday last.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Harris gave a supper party to a number of their Woodside friends the first of the week.

William Byrne spent several days at the State fair at Sacramento. This is one event which Mr. Byrne never misses.

Mrs. Margaret Mowse is reported to be gravely ill at the hospital as the result of an operation recently performed.

Fred Mighall will entertain, on Friday next, the first year students of the Lick-Wilmerding school of San Francisco.

One hundred and fifty boys are expected to make the trip down for a day's outing and picnic.

Francis Moller suffered a painful and very nearly serious injury on Sunday morning. While riding in a machine that was loaded to the gunwales with deer hunters, some body's rifle went off and the bullet carried a groove out of Moller's side just below the ribs. The deer hunters executed an about face and headed for the nearest hospital, where seven stitches and large quantities of bandaging material were used.

One hunter and a young man is recovering rapidly from his wound, but had the bullet gone a fourth of an inch deeper and penetrated the abdominal wall, the accident might easily have ended in a fatality.

Mrs. Covington Pringle entertained a number of her friends at her home on the hill on Monday last.

The Skyline boulevard from San Francisco is now opened to the public as far as its junction with the King's Mountain road. The road itself is wide and the grades easy while the views to be obtained along the road are likely to be surpassed anywhere in California.

Work is progressing on that part of the boulevard which will join the King's Mountain road with the La Honda road.

NEW BRANCH LIBRARY FOR LAS LOMITAS SCHOOL DISTRICT

A new branch of the San Mateo county circulating library will be opened in the Las Lomitas school district next Friday. The new library was secured for the district through the efforts of the Parent Teacher Association of the school, and Miss A. W. Davis was chosen custodian of the new branch. The library will be opened in the day school house, and will be open every Friday from 2 to 9 p. m. A large variety of books have been secured from the county library and these will be added to by donations to the branch by members of the P. T. A. and by books loaned to the library by friends.

LOS LOMITAS P. T. A.

HOLD IMPORTANT MEETING
The Las Lomitas Parent-Teacher Association met at the school on Friday, September 5th. Miss M. B. Clark, the president, asked the chairman of the committee on speakers, Mrs. E. H. Werthman, to introduce Dr. Edith Johnson of Palo Alto. Mrs. Werthman explained that the object of the program of talks this season will be to show the parents how they may best assist the teachers in making the standard of school work and attendance as nearly perfect as possible.

Very important is the matter of child hygiene, on which Dr. Johnson told of the proper diet for children, remarking that bad habits in eating are not inherited, but are imitated, and said that fatigue and irritability should be watched as signs of sickness. Improper food affects the general health, not merely height and weight.

Contagious disease was then considered. The speaker strongly advised immunizing against small-pox, diphtheria and scarlet fever, health insurance being quite as important as fire insurance, both for the individual and the community. Colds should be isolated, as they usually become epidemic, and serious troubles often follow them. Dr. Johnson answered several questions from the audience.

The president then called the meeting to order, and asked Mrs. J. Feliz, the treasurer, for a statement. Mrs. Feliz reported $121.89 in the treasury on June 1st, since when there has been collected $4.75 from a motion picture performance, $43 from the dance and $167.15 from the rummage sale; $81.75 has been expended. There are no outstanding bills. The association then voted to offer the trustee $150 for the purchase of folding chairs, to be used at entertainments, etc. $25 was set aside for the use of the committee on hot lunches. It was voted to conduct a circulating library as a branch of the San Mateo County Library.

Miss Violet Curran presented her resignation as secretary, because her school duties this year conflict with the hours of meeting. Mrs. D. W. Smith was appointed to fill the vacancy. Several new members were present.

NOTES FROM BELMONT

Miss Audrey Norris spent the week end in San Francisco.

Mrs. Paul Miller, Mrs. J. McArde and Mrs. Fred Johnson were the guests of Mrs. Thomas E. Moran Thursday afternoon.

Ernest Haquette and his mother, Mrs. Sogah Haquette, motored to Los Angeles, where they will visit for several weeks.

Miss Ruth MacGowan who recently graduated from the San Mateo Union High School, is now attending the San Francisco State Teachers' College.

Mrs. Harold Hansen attended a luncheon in San Francisco last Saturday.

Miss Amelia Johnson visited Miss Margaret Harrington of Menlo Park Tuesday.

Mrs. David Williams and children spent Wednesday afternoon as the guests of Mrs. Thomas E. Moran.

The stingy farmer was scoring the hired man for carrying a lighted lantern to call on his best girl. "The idea," he exclaimed, "when I was courtin' I never carried no lantern. I went in the dark."

"Yes," said the hired man sadly, "and look what you got."

KNIGHTS CARNIVAL ON IN SAN MATEO

Wednesday night at Knights of Columbus hall in San Mateo a four night carnival began with a very enthusiastic crowd who greatly enjoyed the evening. Everyone made merry and a very happy spirit pervaded the revellers. Introductory remarks by the chairman of the carnival committee, Mr. J. J. Haher, of this city, the carnival, and were followed by Min Diebert's Agnetians in a splendid vaudeville entertainment. Min Diebert's orchestra rendered fitting selections. Among those who aided in the evening's entertainment were:

Vocal selections, Miss Mildred Long; songs and monologues, Martin O'Brien; vocal numbers, Miss Ruth Hannan; saxophone virtuoso, Alan Pope; selections, Min Diebert's Orchestra.

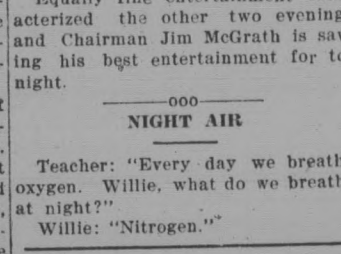

Another orchestra provided perfect jazz for the dancers who thronged the gymnasium and promenade of the beautiful moonlight. The building was attractively decorated with and within with colors and multitude of lights. The grocery booth under the management of Messrs. McMoyle and Pepin, the cake booth under the management of Mrs. Killilea and Mrs. Branson, the ham and bacon booth under Mrs. Christine O'Brien, Bess Darcy, Lorraine Blythe and Dorita Falvey, Helen Robinson and Elise Schilling were attractive spots to the visitors. A radiola Superhetodyne radio showed its marvelous powers of picking music out of the air.

Equally fine entertainment characterized the other two evenings and Chairman Jim McGrath is saving his best entertainment for tonight.
